Sanitary Condition Public School No. 8 Reported Very Bad

Dr. Sanford, Health Officer, and Plumbing Inspector Gregory Report on Conditions Found in School When They Investigated Complaint of P. T. A.—Other Matters.

"The sanitary conditions at Public School No. 8 are very bad," said Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, in submitting a report made of a complaint lodged by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school at the regular monthly meeting of the board of health Tuesday evening at the city hall. Dr. Sanford said that after receiving the complaint which was sent in by Mrs. Harry Clearwater, president of the association, he and Plumbing Inspector Charles H. Gregory had visited the school and found that the complaint was justified.

According to the report filed with the board by the health officer and plumbing inspector the school is badly in need of modern plumbing, and the present plumbing is not only inadequate but antiquated, and should be replaced. The board voted unanimously to recommend to the education board that the proposed changes be made in the school plumbing.

Dr. Sanford said that similar trouble occurred some time ago at School No. 7, but conditions there had been remedied and no further complaints had been received.

The city owns some property at 53 German street, and according to a report made to the board by Plumbing Inspector Gregory the building on it is little more than a shack which is occupied by an aged man. As there are no plumbing facilities of any kind in the shack and no outdoor toilet the aged man throws all his refuse in the back yard and as a result the neighbors are complaining. It was brought out that the old man could be admitted to the City Home and the board decided that on account of sanitary conditions it would be wise to have the aged man vacate the shack and remove him to the City Home.

Earlier this month complaints were received from the occupants of two houses at Nos. 5 and 9 Grandview avenue, that their houses were filled with gas. The trouble was found to be due to a faulty gas connection in the street which followed the sewer pipes into the houses. This has been remedied it was reported by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.

The board audited bills and received and filed the reports of the officers of the board.

The reports showed that during January there were 45 births and 62 deaths in Kingston, and that for the corresponding month last year there were 47 births and 64 deaths.

Dr. Philip Poley, meat inspector; Dr. Harold Clarke, food inspector; John Reis, sanitary inspector, and Miss B. Eleanor Easton of the laboratory submitted reports of the work done during January.

The laboratory report showed 586 tests made and that the total value of the work done amounted to $388. Plumbing Inspector Gregory reported he had received 4 plans for work in new buildings and had made a number of inspections of both rough and finished plumbing.

$75,000 Fire In Catskill Tuesday

Fire women, a boy and a man were carried down ladders in Catskill Tuesday night in a fire that nearly destroyed the downtown business area after razing three blocks. Seven firemen were trapped and saved by their fellow workers while fighting the blaze in one of the buildings. Rescued were:

Mrs. Kassel Killman, 37; her daughter, Henrietta, 12, and son, Stanley, 8.
Mrs. Sarah M. Newman, 30; her mother, Mrs. Mary Margolis, 70, Rose Margolis, 28, and Samuel, 25.
All were trapped in apartments and but for the use of ladders might have perished.

The fire originated in the basement of Kassel Killman's men's shop, according to fire officials. A high wind swept the flames to adjoining buildings and for a while it appeared as though the entire business section was doomed.

Fire department officials said the blaze was prevented from spreading to other business blocks by the brick construction of the Lampman Estate building.

Admiral's summoned from the nearby village of Leeds, Conn. Athens and Palenville announced the village fire department. Subzero weather made their task difficult.

The section suffering heaviest was in the neighborhood Church and Main streets. The loss was estimated at $75,000.

Community Dollar Day Will Be Held Here Wednesday, Feb. 21

Merchants All Over the City Are Planning To Stage One of the Biggest Dollar Days Ever Held Here—Many of the Stores Have Stocked Up At Low Prices For the Sale and These Savings Will Be Passed On To the Consumer.

At a meeting of the merchants of the city recently it was voted to hold Kingston's Semi-annual Community Dollar Day on Wednesday, February 21. Merchants all over the city are planning to stage one of the biggest dollar days ever held in the city and special offerings are being planned for the day.

The public is expected to turn out in force that day and take advantage of the hundreds of special offerings. While it will be known as a Community Dollar Day Sale the sale is not limited to articles of a dollar in value but there will be specials for less than a dollar and also for prices well above a dollar. All types of

New Lindbergh Angle Accuses Flier Today of Unbecoming Conduct

New York Man Asks That the Army Revoke His Commission as Colonel, Saying Attitude of Lone Eagle Was "Selfish, Unofficer-like."

New York, Feb. 14 (AP).—The army has been asked to revoke the commission of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in the Officers Reserve Corps.

Arthur W. McMahon, of New York, who made the request, accused Col. Lindbergh of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman" in sending to President Roosevelt a telegram protesting cancellation of air mail contracts.

McMahon, who described himself as a former senior lieutenant in the Naval Reserve air force, said he sent the request to Major General Dennis E. Nolan, commander of the Second Corps Area, yesterday. At Governor's Island, corps area headquarters, the request had not been received early today.

Col. Lindbergh's telegram was "prejudicial to the good order and discipline of the service," McMahon charged, and revealed "nothing but a selfish and unofficer-like interest to the discredit and disadvantageous reflection of many reserve officers who do not share the views expressed."

Hitler Today Ends The Federal Council

The Reichsrat, Representing States. An Innovation Under the Republic Constitution Is Abrogated—Preliminary Sanction Canceled.

Berlin, Feb. 14 (AP).—Chancellor Hitler's Government today abolished the Reichsrat—the Federal Council—thereby abrogating section four of the Weimar Constitution.

The abrogated section comprises articles 60 to 67 of the constitution which provide for the organization of the Reichsrat as follows:

The Reichsrat represents the states and consists of 66 members. Each member has one vote for every 100,000 inhabitants; any surplus over 350,000, if equal at least to the population of the smallest state, counts as a full one million.

A member of the government presides over its plenary and committee sessions. The Reichsrat has rights of preliminary sanction and of protest against a Reichstag (Parliament) bill, and if matters reach a deadlock, the president of the public order a referendum where the Reichstag majority is less than two thirds, and he must where the majority is over two thirds.

Acquittal Is Verdict As Judge Scores Jury

Lake George, N. Y., Feb. 14 (AP).—Bernard (Barney) Brady of Glens Falls, indicted for the murder of Thomas A. McLaughlin in a saloon last May, was acquitted by a jury today. The verdict was rendered almost immediately after Supreme Court Justice John Alexander, who presided, had declared:

"I do not see how you can bring in a homicide verdict in any degree against the prisoner."

Brady was accused of slaying McLaughlin, a bartender, in Harbor Road's saloon in Glens Falls, and that jealousy supplied the motive. The woman in the case did not appear in court.

Skidding Accident. Creek Lake, Feb. 14.—Richard Bomberger had a very narrow escape Thursday evening when his car skidded at the turn in the road in front of the Ackerly home, broke two posts and fell over the embankment a distance of about 15 feet. He was not injured but the car was quite badly damaged.

History of Insurance New Financial Order Brought to Rotary by In America Has Arisen Jacob H. Tremper, Jr. From Banking Holiday

Young Insurance Man Tells Romance Behind Everyday Insurance Transactions—Pictures Lloyd's Famous Setup.

Jacob H. Tremper, Jr., a member of the firm of DeWitt-Tremper-Osterhout, spoke to the members of the local Rotary Club today in the Governor Clinton hotel on the subject "A History of Insurance." His talk, filled with historical data on the growth of one of the world's largest businesses, was both novel in treatment and interesting of substance.

Mr. Tremper spoke as follows: Mr. President and gentlemen of Rotary: It is not unusual to hear an insurance man talk, neither is it unusual to hear an insurance man become boring. However, I am unique in at least one form of being here today, namely I asked to come. I know it is customary for the speaker of the day to tell how he was approached by one of your program committee and asked to tell of his experiences or to give a brief message to all of you about his business. The reverse is true of me. I asked to come. I sought out your committee and asked if I might say a few words. It is my impression that they gathered around and when they came out of the "huddle" they told me that if I would promise not to try and sell anything, that I might have the floor some time in February. So you have the true story as to how I got here. Nevertheless, I have come with a definite thought in mind.

Unquestionably, one of the most abused professions in the world is that of insurance, and by the same token, one of the most knocked about branches of that business is the local agent. He is the man who takes all of the abuse and the man whom you all hate with a most definite reason. This, I believe, is due mainly to the agent himself. For years and years, the old fashioned life insurance agent was nothing more than a professional "crepe hanger." His main song and dance was how much you would leave after you had passed on. Of course, this had to go, and in its place came the glib, salesmen who some times calls himself a service representative of an estate associate, but in no insurance agent. However, regardless of what he might call himself, it all boils down to the same old baloney, insurance and a desire to sell it.

And so I come to you today to try and in a certain degree to dispell this truly entrenched idea. I am going to indulge myself long enough to try and show you that an agent really knows a little more about the business than rates and premiums. That he really can talk of more than endowments and annuities. I will try and show a side of the business which few of you have seen, the glamour, the romance and the intrigue which have gone into the history of this institution we call insurance. It has become a necessity to all of us and cursed by most of us.

In line with this indulgence, I have prepared a paper to read. Inasmuch as I am no public speaker I thought that it would be easier for me and easier on you. So, with my heart in my throat I present the following:

As it is my intention to give you a brief insight into the history of insurance, it is necessary for us first to be inevitably lead into the much earlier origin of the Marine Branch. I have always looked on the Marine Branch as embodying the romantic side of the business, and I think that we are justified in giving its early origin for a few moments. It is said that one must seek in the records of Assyria more than 1500 B. C. for the first traces of insurance. One of the most interesting accounts of its origin was contained in the English publication "The Post Magazine and the Insurance Monitor," some years ago, and I know that you will be interested if I quote from that article called "The Romance of Insurance."

The need for some method of enabling an individual owner of property to support the disaster of its total destruction, must have been felt in all communities which had passed beyond the stage of tribal ownership of goods and it is quite likely that mutual insurance clubs may have sprung up spontaneously in many countries. In Egypt, for example, long before the Christian era, the peasants formed clubs for the insurance of the donkeys with which they plied for hire on the banks of the Nile. It is customary to reckon, however, the beginning of insurance from about 500 B. C. when the traders of Tyre and Rhodes and Eastern Mediterranean generally began to make "rules" regarding what is now known in Marine Insurance as "General Average," that is, they agreed to share among the whole of the adventures in a voyage any loss which might arise through the casting overboard of part of the cargo in order to save the ship.

This custom was later embodied by the Emperor Justinian of Rome in his famous legal code, which declared that "if in order to lighten a ship, merchandise is thrown overboard, that which has been given for all, shall be replaced by the contribution of all," and in very similar words, it is sanctioned by the British Marine Act in 1906.

The next step appears to have been to grant loans to merchants on the security of their ships, such loans being repayable with heavy interest, in the event of the safe completion of the voyage, but being forfeited in case of loss.

Subzero Weather Again Gripped City 15 Below Recorded

After Two Days of Comparatively Mild Weather the Thermometers Took Another Nose Dive Tuesday Night and Subzero Weather Prevailed.

After the comparatively mild weather of Sunday and Monday that followed the subzero weather of last week the weather gradually grew colder on Tuesday, and a chilly, wintry wind blew all afternoon and evening when the thermometers took another nose dive, and as a result a recording of 15 degrees below zero was recorded at Sawkill by the Kingston water department.

Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning a recording of 12 below was reported in the Wilbur section of the city, while in other parts of the city the recordings ranged from 3 to 12 below.

The mild weather of Sunday and Monday had softened up the ground somewhat causing the frost in the ground to sink lower, and as a result there were many more freezeups of water systems reported throughout the city. On Andrew street it was said that every other house was without water, and the same condition prevailed it is said in other sections of the city.

The freezeups of the past few days were outdoors and the only method that could be successfully used in opening the pipes was with the use of electricity.

With the many freezeups reported householders are using more water by allowing the faucets to run to prevent the pipes freezing and as a result water consumption has increased approximately 2,000,000 gallons a day. The water department states that it is not necessary to let faucets run at full force, but only a slight trickle is necessary to prevent freezeups of pipes.

Boy Scouts Are to Make House to House Canvass of the City

Soliciting Donations of Old Clothing, Bedding, Household Furniture and Cooking Utensils to Be Distributed to Needy Families Through CWA.

At a meeting of representatives of the Boy Scout Troops of Kingston held Tuesday afternoon it was decided to have the Scouts cooperate with the local CWA in making a house to house canvass of the city soliciting donations of old clothing, bedding of all descriptions, household furniture and cooking utensils.

The articles that are donated will be collected by truck on February 24, and conveyed to the clothing bureau on Pine Grove avenue. Here the clothing and bedding will be reconditioned before it is distributed to needy families.

Every householder who has old clothing of any description or household articles that they have discarded are urged to save them for the CWA.

The work of canvassing the city was started today. The city was divided into sections and a certain section assigned to each Scout troop.

Continue Search For Hit-Run Driver

There were no new developments today in the matter of locating the driver of the Ford truck which struck and fatally injured Helen Nicholson Monday evening as she was walking along the Saugerties road near the Neighborhood road. Men from the sheriff's office and State Troopers are continuing their investigations and checking up on drivers of small Ford trucks in this locality as well as north into Greene county. While a good description of the truck and driver was secured there are many cars of this type and the investigation will take several days. It is expected that within a day or two, unless the driver comes forward and explains his action, that the authorities will have run down the driver.

First Dutch Men to Hold Annual Dinner

The 12th annual dinner for men at the First Dutch Church will be held Thursday, February 22 at 6:30. This is an event to which the men of the church and community have each year looked forward with happy anticipations. First, because of the excellence of the dinner itself, prepared and served by the members of the Henrietta Wynkoop Guild, and the fellowship of the 250 men that get together, and secondly, because of the high standard of the addresses so ably delivered by outstanding members of professional, business and political life. Among these have been Dr. W. W. Jiles, Dr. H. Percy Silver, Dr. Rolf Brooks, Dr. W. I. Chamberlain, Dr. C. E. Jefferson, Fred B. Smith, Harry N. Holmes, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Senators Byrne and Hanley, United States Senator Joe T. Robinson, Col. William Hayward, Former Secretary of State, Ralph C. Colby, Joe Chapple, Sir Harry Armstrong, Major Wood and others. The speakers this year are Dr. Robert Clothier, president of Rutgers University, and the Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of New York City. Both are leaders in their particular field. The one in education, the other in religion, and both are in great demand as after-dinner speakers. The dinner in every respect will be up to the standard of the previous years. The committee from whom tickets may be obtained are the following: Dr. Lucas Boeve, B. H. Houghtaling, J. S. Williams, L. H. Doty, H. R. St. John, H. S. Ensign, C. H. Schoonmaker, W. C. Merritt, H. L. Edson, John B. Snyder, R. F. Forsyth and Theodore Dreesen. The evening is Washington's birthday. Thursday of next week, at 6:30. The dinner music will, as usual, be supplied by Paul Zucca.

THOMAS EDITORIAL IS NOT CLEAR ON CHILD LABOR

Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman
Kingston, N. Y.

Your opposition to the proposed Child Labor Amendment is well known by now, but the reasons for your stand on the matter are not quite clear. Your lengthy editorial of Feb. 10, 1934, is in part misleading, and I believe that you wish your readers to be correctly informed.

To quote from this editorial: "Most business men are in accord with the high intent of the amendment, but to set a hard and fast rule declaring that one under 15 is a child and should not work under any circumstances, is nonsense." Above this you state that this amendment would, if adopted, "regulate, time and prohibit the labor of persons under 15 years of age." Aside from the fact that the amendment would do no such thing, because that is the power to be given to Congress, you intimate that congress is not capable of safeguarding the interests of the youth and the widows of this country. On the other hand you endow the State Legislators with supernatural powers with which they can produce laws fitting a "development of youth (which) is geographical, environmental and broadly controlled by heredity." Why haven't they done so in the past, Mr. Editor? Is it because they had no mind to do so?

The stock phrase of those who were opposed to any Child Labor legislation always has been, "We are driving industry away from the state if we enact such laws." What is worse, industry has always been quick to respond, as witnessed by Fall River, Mass. It is an economic unit that within an economic unit (such as the U. S. A.) all social legislation which places a restraint upon private business shall be uniform, or else serious dislocations must occur. Perhaps this explains why we have no worthwhile protection for growing children.

To say or intimate that congress would forthwith prohibit all persons under 15 years of age from doing any kind of work is, if I may plagiarize your editorial, nonsense. I believe that our representatives in congress are not behind our assemblymen in intelligence, and therefore are not alarmed that the former might do what the latter have not done.

But let us turn the subject around a little and see what we shall see. At what age, if ever, do these busy opponents of the amendment put their sons and daughters to work? Certainly not below eighteen. Why should not sons and daughters of widowed mothers have the same opportunity? Is it because we are unwilling to accept the social responsibility connected with it?

You say nothing about men with families who might get the jobs normally held by children. (I am purposely ignoring the NRA which is

Boy Scouts Will Hold Court of Honor Friday

Dr. W. N. Thayer, Jr., Will Be the Speaker at Closing Exercises of Local Boy Scouts' Celebration.

Kingston Boy Scouts will wind up their celebration of the 24th anniversary week of scouting with the court of honor to be held at the high school auditorium Friday evening, beginning at 7:45. It is expected that this anniversary week court of honor will be very largely attended.

Dr. Walter N. Thayer, Jr., commissioner of correction for the state of New York, will be the speaker. Dr. Thayer, for years well known in this section as superintendent of the Bapstoch Institution and for his active interest in the work of the Boy Scouts, will have a message of special interest to parents and adults. He speaks from a wide experience in dealing with criminals throughout the state, and his address should prove of great value to all interested in boys and their welfare.

This court of honor meeting will be open to all friends of scouting and the general public is invited.

A feature of special interest will be the conferring of the rank of Eagle Scout on four of the local scouts. Those to receive this honor, the highest award given boys in scouting, are Ward Brigham, John Roberts, Conrad Kantzler and Robert Doolan, all members of Troop 12 of Kingston.

The Kingston High School orchestra, under direction of Leonard Stine, will furnish music for the occasion.

The monotony of correcting examination papers is frequently broken by unusual and amusing answers which some students make to questions. On a recent examination paper the question was asked, "What are bacteria?" and one pupil answered, "Bacteria are intoxicating drinks." The second part of the question was, "Are all bacteria harmful?" and the pupil replied, "Yes."

only temporary). What is wrong with supporting a widow if it is right to support a healthy man and his family?

So you see, Mr. Editor, there are a few questions to be answered before I can honestly change my mind. Will you do it if you know the answers? In the meanwhile I urge all true Americans of Kingston and vicinity to write to their Assemblyman, Mr. Conway, to vote for the ratification of the amendment, or else give some good reason (differentiated from oratory) for not doing so.

Sincerely yours,

THEN . . . the raconteur

Not so long ago, people depended on tales of returned travelers for their information about distant lands—and such tales they were! Horses with wings . . . men with hoots . . . animals that grew on plants. No tale was too tall for those raconteurs in ancient public houses.

And their audiences could take it or leave it. . . . There was no way to check up on these stories, no agency devoted to the accurate reporting of what really happened across the world.

18 Ulster Grangers Attended State Meet

Eighteen Ulster County Grangers traveled to Lake Placid last week for special train from Poughkeepsie to attend the 41st annual session of the New York State Grange on February 6 to 9. About 1,200 from all parts of the state were in attendance. The voting delegates from Ulster County included George Baile of Ashbury Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Cliftonville, Mrs. Charles Bell, Highland, Mrs. Eleanor Young, Milton, Mrs. Mary Jones, New Paltz, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Styles, Stone Ridge, and Albert Kurdt of Ulster Grange.

Others who attended were Mrs. Charles O. Jenkins, secretary of the Poughkeepsie Grange, Mr. Fred Kukul, chairman of the Poughkeepsie Grange, and his wife, Mrs. Kukul, who also took part in the session. Mrs. Kukul is a member of the Poughkeepsie Grange, and Mrs. Kukul is a member of the Poughkeepsie Grange.

The four days and nights of the convention were busy ones for everybody. The speakers included Fred J. Freestone, master of the State Grange, L. J. Talbot, master of the National Grange, James C. Farmer, lecturer of the National Grange, L. P. Hendrick, director of the State Experiment Station at Geneva, Dr. E. A. Bates of Cornell U. E. Babcock, of the U. S. F. E. exchange and Grange trustee of Cornell University, L. R. Simpson, director of extension at Cornell, Dr. C. E. Ladd, dean of the State College of Agriculture, and Jerome H. Barnum, publisher of the Syracuse Post Standard. The annual report of each officer was presented and 140 resolutions were considered and voted on. The lecturers had separate sessions each day of the convention.

The election of officers resulted in Fred J. Freestone being re-elected master and Raymond J. Cooper, overseer. Mrs. E. P. Miller was elected to succeed Miss Elizabeth Arthur as lecturer and H. M. Stanley was chosen secretary to succeed F. J. Riley.

Ulster county was honored for outstanding work of the service and hospitality committees by the appointment of Mrs. Charles T. Everett of Plattskill Grange as the third member of the state committee.

Home Bureau Roster Now Past Total of 1933

Memberships in the Ulster County Home Bureau are still coming in and recently passed the figure for 1933. If the record of the past week continues the goal for 1934 of 500 will soon have been reached. Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, former vice chairman, now chairman, of the Home Bureau, and Mrs. John Dederick, newly elected vice chairman and local vice chairman in the communities have headed up the membership campaign this year and are being congratulated upon their fine record.

The membership to date by communities is as follows:

Local CWA Awaits Federal Word on Work Continuance

Henry Forest, chairman of Local 44, is heard from the federal government regarding the continuance of work.

Thursday is the last day that local CWA projects can continue, unless word is heard from the federal government extending the time. Henry Forest, chairman of the local CWA, stated this afternoon that as yet no word had been received, and unless word was received Thursday work would have to cease.

CWA Funds Bill Now Goes to White House

Washington, Feb. 14 (AP)—The Senate today completed congressional action on the $950,000,000 appropriation bill for the CWA and distress relief. It now goes to the White House.

Final action came on a motion by Senator Borah (R-Ida.) to reconsider a previous action in approving a partial conference report. He was defeated by a single vote, 42 to 41. The motion appeared to have carried, but Senator Tydings (D Md.) strolled into the chamber and swung it the other way.

Borah and Senators Pittman (D-Nev.) and Copeland (D-NY) sought reconsideration to send the measure back to conference to strike out the provision prohibiting expenditure of any of the fund for new federal projects.

Tax Collectors to Help Make Returns

Deputy collectors of internal revenue for the 14th district of New York state will be at the court house on Wall street, Kingston, from March 7 to 15 and at the post office in Saugerties, March 5 and 6 to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their 1933 tax returns.

MT. TREMPER

Mr. Trumper, Feb. 14—Judging from the following averages, the pupils of Mt. Tremper School have enjoyed a successful half year under instruction of Miss F. Murphy. Out of the 23 pupils 20 have marks over 80 percent. The honor roll averages over 85 percent. Seventh grade, Ruth Wilber; fifth grade, "Junior" Scholl, Wilson Hoyt, John Boerker; fourth grade, Hubert Wilber; third grade, Fred Zauner, Ernest Gardner, Fred Hansen; first grade, Earl Every, Margaret Zauner, Kenneth Umhey. The following attained an average of 80 to 84 percent: Seventh grade, Jack Hilowit, William Zauner; sixth grade, Frank Carle, Jr., Lindsay Hoyt, Caroline Zauner; fourth grade, Lily Weber; third grade, Madeleine Boerker, Howard Umhey; first grade, Nancy Smith.

Frank Carle, Jr., and "Junior" Scholl have neither been absent nor tardy during the school year this far.

Construction on the new bridge has been delayed considerably due to the extremely cold weather. Only a few men are employed when work is in progress.

Last Thursday evening the Grange was to have given a party, but due to the severe cold, something like 20 below zero, 17 people showed up, only to play cards, in close proximity to the stove. The entertainment planned will be given during the week of February 18.

The Grange will hold its regular meeting on Friday, February 16, with Albert Kurdt, manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, the speaker during lecturer's hour. Many of the members who know Mr. Kurdt will no doubt be pleased to have this opportunity to hear him.

Westchester Town Discrepancies

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Discrepancies in the records of the town of Rye, Westchester county, were reported today by Examiners George E. Wadagnolo and John W. Coyle in a report to the state comptroller. Examination revealed that "one justice of the peace only conducted criminal cases during the period covered by the examination" and that the audit of his criminal docket disclosed three delinquencies in turning over fees to the state and town.

Body Cross Meetings

A regular meeting of the Body Cross Men's Club and the Women's Friendship Club will be held tonight at 7:30 in the parish house on Pine Grove avenue. Following the meeting there will be a dart tournament same between the Body Cross men and Connolly.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 14 (AP)—Financial markets were somewhat on the defensive today and prices in most categories reflected mixed sentiment.

Another break of around 32 a bale in cotton engendered added caution in speculative fields. Stocks were quite spotty and bonds different. Grains held to a slim groove. International dollar rates, unusually narrow, furnished no stimulus. Silver futures were firm, but rubber eased.

Shares of Liggett & Myers B. American Tobacco B and Reynolds B dropped 1 to 3 points, and most of the alcohol were down fractionally to 2. The metals slipped back after early advances. U. S. Steel, Case, American Can, Santa Fe and a number of others showed reactions of about a point each. Most of the aircraft were steady, following their unsentimental of yesterday. The utilities were quiet and a bit lower.

The downward hurry in the tobacco issue was attributed partly to reports that one of the 18-cent cigarette manufacturers was preparing to market a new package to retail at 8 cents which would contain five 11-cents cigarettes, each of which could be sub-divided into four. The profit here, it was said, would come in the saving of federal taxes if an adverse ruling is not made by the authorities.

Features At The Kappa Zeta Show

The advance sale of tickets for the annual edition of the "Radio Rural Revue" will be staged jointly by the Kappa Zeta and Holstein Clubs at the New Palm High School Auditorium on February 23, is much larger than was anticipated.

Some of the following features of the show will be dancing by Mrs. Weyler's dancing school, one of the most popular dancing schools in Kingston.

Play by George Kennedy & Company.

Robert Kestigh & Company, tap dancing troupe, formerly with R. K. O. vaudeville.

Master of Magic—Fred Van Deusen of Kingston.

Blue Ridge Rangers, who have featured on WGY and most popular Hill-Billies of the Hudson Valley.

Bob Hawley, former Metropolitan Opera Company, will render several selections.

The Lake Katrine Grange will present its prize winning play—"Day By Day."

Mrs. Arthur Kartz, a local soloist, will also be an added feature to the program accompanied by Mrs. Fred Drosel.

Also two acts of comic fun and laughter by some of Ulster county's home folks.

Orson Beatty, the production manager, is arranging a show of 12 acts, still more entertaining than the success of last year. Everybody is invited to this unusual entertainment and the dance to follow.

GOLDEN RULE CLUB HELD ITS MONTHLY MEETING

The Golden Rule Men's Club of the Edenville M. E. Church held its regular monthly business meeting and social last evening in the lecture room of the church. The pastor, the Rev. Wesley Gebhard, is very much pleased with the enthusiasm shown by the members. Plans are being made to have the wives and lady friends meet with them at one of their monthly meetings. Men of the community are invited to join.

MAJESTIC ON SEA TODAY WITH BIG GOLD CARGO

Cherbourg, Feb. 14 (AP)—About $42,000,000 worth of gold—the biggest shipment of its kind on any single liner since the gold rush began—started for America in the holds of the S. S. Majestic today.

Of the cargo, 27,000,000 worth came from Southampton and 100,000,000 francs worth was put on board here.

The English insurance and reinsurance on the cargo ranged up to 30 shillings per £100—1 1/2 percent.

CREEK LOCKS

Creek Locks, Feb. 14—Joseph Kostek's police dog caught and killed an opossum and a groundhog several weeks ago.

Frank Dugan of Bayonne, N. J., attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Burns, of Bloomington. Vance Hogan was through here on Friday.

Creek Locks was saddened to hear of the death of Franklin Curtis of Kingston last week. Mr. Curtis was quite well known in this place as he was a frequent visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. Margaret E. Wolfe, while she was a resident of this place.

The Bundy family entertained company from Kingston on Saturday evening.

Trooper and Mrs. Archie Reilly of Kingston called on his mother, Mrs. Emma Reilly, on Sunday.

Fred Wurtz, the local bus driver, resigned his position after eight months of perfectly satisfactory service to accept a position in New York. All were sorry to see him go as he always was courteous and very obliging.

The children enjoyed their holiday on Lincoln's Birthday as school was closed on that day.

Miss Jennie Utter spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Anna Walsh. Mrs. Martha Weber spent a social afternoon with Mrs. Raymond Ackert Monday afternoon.

The Rondout Creek is frozen over for the fourth time this year and the youngsters and grown-ups are taking advantage of the fine skating.

Leis Lost Her Dog!

By ANNE CAMPBELL

How to picture happiness? Only Leis claims happiness can run and play Tag and other games!

Once his image was obscured in a glossy fog. That was yesterday, before Leis lost her dog!

He would come back again. Happiness would run. On four joyous dainty feet. Through the summer sun!

Who can picture happiness? ... Leis, I suppose! She says joy is just a dog with a soft coat and a happy heart.

Open Beaver Season To Be Discussed Friday

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 14 (AP)—The advisability of an open season on beaver in March, the first since 1928, will be discussed at a hearing on Friday to be conducted by Conservation Commissioner Lithgow Osborn.

The department has the authority to declare an open season on the animal, to be taken by traps only, from March 1 to March 31, in any part of the state. Licenses must be obtained by those who desire to trap.

The beaver has increased greatly within the past several years in several sections, particularly in the Adirondacks, with heavy damage to dams and trees.

Society Notes

Valentine Party.

West Park, Feb. 14.—The Valentine Party given by the Young Ladies' Club proved a big event. Twenty young people were present. Dancing, games and a beautiful lunch were enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be held on Friday, February 16, at the home of Carrie Ackert.

Casualties-Sabo.

Miss Rose Sabo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sabo, of Cedar Hill, and Joseph Cascales, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cascales of Marlborough, were married in St. Mary's rectory in Marlborough, Sunday afternoon by the Rev. James F. Hanley. Miss Carrie Cascales, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Andrew Sabo, brother of the bride, best man. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The couple will make their home in Marlborough.

A Valentine party was held Tuesday at the home of Miss Helen Curtis of 75 Pine Grove avenue and a good time was reported by all. Those participating in the activities were Miss Vernie Mooney, William Galey, Miss Catherine Halden, Chester Bogart, Miss Rita Hammer, Thomas Chase, Miss Cecilia McGrath, Alfred Wood, Miss Rita McAndrew, Chris. Voodoo Came to America From Africa, Via Haiti

Voodoo came to America from Africa, directly or indirectly, by the way of Haiti, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In the last named island it flourishes today as the most important of all things in the lives of a considerable proportion of the people of that black republic. In the last part of the eighteenth century thousands of negroes were taken from West Africa and sold into slavery in Haiti. Some also during that period were transported to Louisiana. They came from Guinea, the Gold Coast, Dahomey, the Congo, and other regions along the African Atlantic coast. They brought to Haiti and America the worship of the serpent, and a host of other gods or beliefs in mysterious and frightful gods. The serpent of the African native was the python, and the supreme spirit which spoke through the python god was Li Grand Zombi. In America the rattlesnake became the serpent god. In 1809, because of the war between France and Spain, a great many Haitian slaves who had settled in Cuba with their slaves to avoid the Haitian revolution came to America through the port of New Orleans. When the simple negroes in America looked in Voodoo rituals they then obtained through this new influx of slaves.

In Haiti Voodoo is said still to embrace the most disgusting of pagan rites, the extreme of which is human sacrifice. In remote regions, where the authorities have little or no control, Voodoo priests and priestesses still on rare occasions put to death the vulnerable victims of sacrifice. The case of Calixte Belizaire, the cannibalistic murderer, who slew a number of his relatives, is still talked about in Haiti. It was only a few years ago.

William T. Jerome Dies of Pneumonia

Famous District Attorney of New York After Retirement Built Up Fortune in Color Motion Pictures—Arch Rival of Tammany.

New York, Feb. 14 (AP)—William T. Jerome, who as district attorney of New York twice prosecuted J. Edgar Hoover for the murder of Edward G. Bremer, is dead. He was 74 years old.

Two weeks with pneumonia, a famous prosecutor who held office from 1903 to 1910, died yesterday at his town house. With him went his son, William Travers Jerome, Jr., and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jerome, who was in the Jerome household at York.

Although well known to New Yorkers as an arch foe of Tammany Hall and a constant crusader against crime and political corruption, Jerome was best known in other parts of the country for his prosecution of Thaw.

Jerome retired to private practice in 1910 and about twelve years ago organized a company for production of motion pictures in color which in 1925 was reported to have built him a fortune estimated at $20,000,000.

Although living in comparative retirement for the past few years, his former prosecutor again raised his voice against Tammany last fall by supporting the fusion campaign of Mayor LaGuardia.

Parent-Teacher Associations

P. T. A. No. 4.

At the February meeting of the P. T. A. of School No. 4, held Tuesday afternoon, a message from the state radio chairman, Mrs. Elmer A. Davis, was presented by Mrs. W. R. Anderson. The message called attention to the broadcasts of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers over WHAM, Rochester, every Monday from 4:15 to 4:30 p. m., during February, also the National Congress broadcasts over radio network each Friday from 3:30 to 4 p. m., and the National Education Association Sundays at 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Anderson also presented a message from the state public city director, Mrs. Tristram W. Macaulay, in regard to full state aid to education and the child labor bill to be brought before the state legislature. No. 4 P. T. A. put itself on record as favoring full state aid and the child labor bill and voted that the secretary write Congressman and Assemblyman requesting them to vote against any bill designed to reduce full state aid and support a bill favoring full state aid, also to vote for the ratification of the child labor amendment. The program was in charge of Mrs. W. R. Anderson and consisted of a questionnaire of 30 questions and answers about facts every P. T. A. member should know, prepared by Mrs. Anderson. The questions and answers were distributed among the members so that each one present took part. There was a birthday cake and a Founder's day candle lighting ceremony, also written by Mrs. Anderson. A collection was taken for state and national extension work, after which the president, Mrs. Fred Leverich, cut the birthday cake and ice cream and cake were served by the refreshment committee.

P. T. A. School No. 1

The Parent Teacher Association of School No. 1 will hold a special meeting Thursday evening in honor of Founder's Day. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock and will be held in the school. A special program has been arranged and refreshments will be served. All parents are invited.

Talks to Parents

Thou Shalt Not

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Catherine was shopping with her mother, and, childlike, for she was only 3, was eager to handle and look at all the wealth of pretty things about her.

Her mother, intent on her purchases, did not notice what the child was doing until Catherine reached for a breakable article.

"Don't touch!" the mother called, and then, having averted the immediate catastrophe, she held the baby's hand until her purchases were made.

A psychological friend, seeing the incident, was quite disapproving. "Never give the order 'don't,'" she explained. "It is negative and therefore unconstructive. You should substitute some constructive suggestion instead, and direct the child's attention from what is forbidden."

But, like so much good advice, this positive as opposed to the negative method is not always feasible.

Furthermore, in such a case as the one just cited, any delay might have meant a disaster and have cost money that the family could not well have afforded.

Life does not always give constructive advice. She is a stern teacher and often asserts with hard knocks any infraction of her rules.

Childhood is the preparation for life, and a training which never considers the inevitable prohibitions of the future. The necessary desires and negations, is not fulfilling its purpose.

A continuous series of "don'ts" is distracting to both child and adult, and the mother whose whole system of management is negative may find herself at a loss as to what to do when she is at fault. But any child is better off for having occasionally to suffer the here and there order "No!" without an immediate diversion to notice the how.

Legion and Auxiliary Byrd Camp Takes Will Attend Meeting On Boom Town Aspect

Thursday Night Legionnaires-Market Post and Auxiliary Will Meet at Organization's Headquarters—Talk on Boom Town Aspect to Be Given.

Legionnaires and auxiliary members will journey to Saugerties Thursday night, February 15, at which time the county meeting of both organizations will take place. The business session is scheduled to start promptly at eight o'clock and will be held in the Legion Hall. It is expected that every part of the county will be represented. Interesting reports on membership and other matters pertaining to the Legion will be given.

Following the business meeting, Col. Gerard L. McEntee will deliver a lecture illustrating important parts with stereoscopic slides. He has chosen as his subject "Italy's part in the World War." Col. McEntee is noted for his very interesting lectures and no doubt there will be a large crowd of veterans and members of the auxiliary to hear him.

Lanceur-Hackett Post and the Auxiliary unit, who will be hosts and business of this visit of the county organizations, are extending every effort to make this meeting one of the outstanding events of the year.

Following the lecture there will be dancing and refreshments will be served. Legionnaires, wives, and sweethearts are invited to attend and show the Legion and auxiliary of Saugerties that their hospitality is appreciated. Members of the local post who would like to go and have no means of transportation should get in communication with the custodian of the Memorial building who will endeavor to arrange for them to go with some member since a number from Kingston Post are planning to drive to Saugerties to attend the legion affair.

SEVERY B. CARLE AND PARTY OF FRIENDS TOURING IN SOUTH

Severyn B. Carle has it all over his friends in Kingston who are shivering with cold these days of zero temperatures. Mr. Carle left Monday with a party of friends from the town of Lloyd to spend some time touring points of interest in the south. They expected to go to Miami, spend some time in Fort Lauderdale and visit other well known Florida resort towns, remaining south for several weeks. The party made the trip in the car of Loren Callahan, town clerk of Lloyd, with William Ambrose and William Dealey of Highland and Francis Kaley, cashier of the First National Bank of Milton.

METTACHAHONTS.

Mettachahonts, Feb. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kelder and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Keder enjoyed Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Simon Oserhoudt.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chrysler, daughters, Nettie and Virginia, and Mrs. Harry Osterhoudt called on Mr. and Mrs. John Vandemark and family Thursday evening of last week.

Miss Erma Dingsy spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Dingsy.

Mrs. Spencer Traver spent Monday with Mrs. Archie Dupuy and daughter, Jennie.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osterhoudt called on Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, daughter, Viola, and Elias Osterhoudt Monday evening.

Miss Birdella Osterhoudt spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Osterhoudt and family.

Frank Kelder has returned to his home after attending the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell University for 12 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keder and sons, and Miss Beulah Vandemark called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Chrysler and daughter Friday evening.

School was closed on Wednesday afternoon of last week on account of illness of the teacher, Miss Roma.

Arthur Kelder and Russell Miller assisted in butchering a 400-pound hog for Jesse Osterhoudt Tuesday afternoon.

SOUTH RONDOUT

South Rondout, Feb. 14.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Cole of Plantasia avenue.

The Men's Club will hold a meeting on Thursday evening in the church basement where plans will be made for the supper to be held in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnum and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cole on Sunday.

Mrs. Ida Gunther, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McDaniel were callers upon relatives in the village on Sunday.

Mrs. John Schults of Saugerties returned home after spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cole.

There being no school on Lincoln's birthday the children spent the day in skating on the Rondout Creek and coasting down the big hill.

Mrs. Andrew Besbeck and niece, June Maurer, motored to New York and returned on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Veitokie attended the wedding of Mrs. Veitokie's brother, Theodore Setera, in Brooklyn on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley and daughter, Lilian, of Fort Eben, spent Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley of First street.

Mrs. Ed Wortman and daughter, Nancy, of Kingston called on her sister, Mrs. Joseph Maurer, and family on Monday.

Boy Scout Rally Mask.

The music for the Boy Scout rally, held at the new armory Monday night, was furnished by a band of twelve pieces from Local No. 215 of the American Federation of Musicians, the Kingston local. The cooperation of the members of the union in giving their services for the occasion was greatly appreciated, as it added much to making the rally the success it was.

Little America, Antarctica, Feb. 15

Delayed. AP.—The Markay radio. Little America took on a boom town aspect today.

Heavily-dressed men bustled about. Dogs and sledges hurried in and out with supplies. Hammers pounded and saws sang.

This was the scene as preparations were rushed for winter occupation of this capital of a barren waste.

A new mess hall, radio shack, observation truck and a library are under construction. Temporarily, the cows brought from the United States were placed in a tent. Their portable barn was converted into a bunkhouse.

Dogs and tractors collaborated in the work of hauling supplies from the east barrier cache a mile and a half to the south.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd was not a part of today's busy picture in camp. He was on the Bear of Oakland, the expedition's supply ship, making a brief exploratory voyage.

PLAN TWO FLIGHTS INTO STRATOSPHERE

Army and Geographic Society Will Co-Operate.

Washington.—Two stratosphere ascents to the highest point to which it is practicable for a balloon to lift a man, will be made in the United States during the coming summer in the hope of clearing up problems of the upper air that are still puzzling to science. It was announced by the National Geographic society and the United States army air corps, sponsors of the project. The balloon, with a capacity of 3,000,000 cubic feet, will be the largest ever constructed. It is estimated that it will rise to a height of more than 35 miles above sea level.

The first ascent will be made in June by Capt. Albert W. Stevens, noted aerial observer and photographer of the army air corps, who conceived the project, and Maj. William Kaper, balloon expert of the army air corps. If this flight is successful, the same balloon will make a second ascent in September, in order to check observations under similar conditions.

Scientists as Advisers.

To advise in regard to the scientific plans and equipment, and to direct studies of the data collected, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic society, has formed a committee of outstanding American scientists.

The huge balloon to be used in the ascents will have a gas capacity five times that of the bag in which Commander Settle established his 114,400-mile record last November; and nearly three and a half times that of the Soviet balloon which in September rose more than 12 miles above the earth.

The exact point at which the balloon will take to the air has not been selected, but it will probably be in the northern great plains region. Such a choice, it is pointed out, will give ample room for drift to the northeast, east or southeast and a landing in open country, so that the bag can be salvaged.

The completed plans for the flights are due to the efforts of Captain Stevens, who has gathered data during the past 11 months directed toward the use in stratosphere flights of the largest balloon which it is practicable to construct, and an ascent to the highest point to which it is believed possible for man to rise in a gas bag, with hope of a safe landing. The mere attainment of altitude, however, is not a primary object of the ascents. It is desired to reach the greatest attainable height above the earth in order that conditions there can be observed.

Captain Stevens has penetrated the lower levels of the stratosphere by airplane on numerous occasions and also has served as observer on a number of army balloon ascensions. During his high altitude flying he has collected much scientific data. In a flight over Dayton, Ohio, in October, 1928, he reached an altitude of 30,150 feet and obtained the only complete record of thermometer readings ever made in America, showing on the same day the "temperature gradient" in the region from the earth to the stratosphere. Other such records of temperatures, from the earth to an altitude of approximately 80,000 feet, is one of the objectives of the 1934 ascents. Such data will be extremely valuable to weather studies.

Trap Stratosphere Air.

Another project of importance will be the trapping of samples of stratosphere air at several levels. These specimens will be analyzed and studied later in physical and chemical laboratories.

The preliminary "agenda" for scientific data to be collected during the ascents, contains 14 other items varying from high-level photography and the ascertainment of the electrical condition of the air at various levels, to cosmic ray studies and efforts to determine ozone concentration. The mysterious ozone layer of the upper air which some scientists assert is all that saves life on the earth from destruction by ultra-short light rays, is thought to lie far above the highest point that can be reached by a manned balloon. It is hoped, however, that evidence of an increasing ozone content of the air can be detected 15 miles up.

In order to house the many instruments and automatic recording devices that will be taken aloft, the balloon will have attached to it a spherical gondola of light metal 9 feet in diameter. This diameter is 2 feet greater than that of the gondola used by Professor Piccard and Commander Settle, and will provide a cubic capacity more than twice as great.

The instruments, many of them designed and modified by Captain Stevens as a result of trials during high altitude flights, will be largely automatic, leaving observer and pilot free to take care of the many activities in the gondola that will require personal attention. A number of tiny cameras, using motion-picture film, will automatically and tirelessly "snap" and "click" faces simultaneously at frequent intervals.

Meat Cakes (Serving Eight)
1 pound beef	2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/2 pound pork	2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 pound veal	1 egg
1 cup crumbs	1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped celery	1/4 cup milk

Have all meat chopped well. Add rest of ingredients. Shape into cakes 2 1/2 inch thick and 2 inches in diameter. Place pan, broil 14 minutes, turning several times.

Best Relish Gelatin Salad (Serving Eight)
1 package lemon flavored gelatin	2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup boiling water	1 cup chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons horseradish	1/2 cup chopped beets
2 tablespoons chopped onion	2 tablespoons vinegar
1/4 teaspoon salt	2 tablespoons sugar

Pour water over gelatin mixture, stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and sugar. Chill. Add remaining ingredients, pour into mold. Chill until stiff. Unmold in lettuce cups.

Sauces Dressing

4 egg yolks	1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt	2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika	1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon celery salt	1/2 cup vinegar
	1/2 cup water

Beat yolks, add dry ingredients, add remaining ingredients, mix well and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until creamy mixture forms. Cool.

Rev. I. J. Storz Killed in Crash

The Rev. Immanuel J. Storz, 31, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, Poughkeepsie, was killed at 6:55 o'clock Monday night when his Pontiac sedan struck a parked unlighted truck on the Astor flats, a half mile north of Rhinebeck.

Rubin Wiseman, 28, operator of the truck who had stepped from the machine to repair a blown fuse, said he jumped down a bank bordering the highway after a frantic but unsuccessful attempt to warn the driver of the approaching car by waving his arms.

Wiseman said he believed Mr. Storz was going between 65 and 75 miles an hour when he smashed into the parked truck, driving it 150 feet down a bank, across a snow-filled field and into a swamp, although the brakes on the truck were set at the time of the impact. Frank Trojan, 15, of 40 Tulip street, helper on the truck, was uninjured as he rode along with the car and a half International truck in its cross-lots dash.

LENTEN SEASON OPENS AT TRINITY M. E. CHURCH.

The Lenten season at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church will be observed by a combination of services at the church.

The theme for the Ash Wednesday service at 7:30 will be chapter four of "The Love Story Told by Jesus," entitled "True Love and Will Power."

Howard Wade Kinney will direct the music, with Prof. Shultz at the organ and Donald Finley at the piano. The chorale choir of the church will be present and assist.

Mr. Kinney meets the children of the church at 4 o'clock this afternoon for instruction in singing.

Rising Temperature Predicted for Today

Strong Wind Which Reached Gale Proportions Abated in Most Sections Today—Temps. Filled High by Evening Wind.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14 (AP)—Rising temperature was predicted today to follow a storm and cold wave which sent thermometer readings below the zero mark last night. An icy wind which reached gale proportions yesterday had abated in most sections today, taking some of the bitterness out of the early morning cold.

The temperature ranged from 10 to 15 below in the Adirondacks, from seven to four below in central and western New York, and from the minus to zero in the eastern and southern sections.

The sub-zero readings in scattered sections of the state, Saranac Lake, 10; Otisville, 10; Marquette and Saratoga Springs, 20; Rome, 21; Watertown, 14; Gloversville, 15; Utica, 11; Amsterdam, 10; Syracuse, 10; Cortland, 5; Hornell, Buffalo and Albany, 4; Ithaca, 1.

Highway crews worked throughout the night, clearing roads and making roads of drift snow high by the close of the morning.

"What! 98c for Tooth-paste?" (That's What You'd Pay, Madam, If It Weren't for Advertising!)

NEARLY a dollar for a little tube of tooth-paste. $3.25 for a pair of chiffon hose. 50 cents for a gallon of gasoline. And a flat two thousand for a "popular priced" car.

How far could the old family budget stagger under that kind of load? What's more to the point, how many nice things could you afford to buy?

There's one big reason why you don't have to pay such outlandish prices for quality things these days. It's because you—and millions like you all over the country—do your buying through the advertising you read!

And it's because you—and thousands like you here in Kingston who read the Daily Freeman—can afford to be choosy and critical when you shop for values.

For Daily Freeman ads save you money! A merchant can mark this good merchandise at a lower price when his Daily Freeman ad will bring many, many dollar-wise shoppers to his store. Having all these buyers gives him a good return on just a tiny profit per item! And you pay no big "mark-up"

But price isn't everything. You get better quality in advertised goods. They have "acceptance"—they've been tested by thousands of shoppers as careful as yourself. And found worthwhile. They must be good or the merchant wouldn't spend his hard-earned money to advertise them in this newspaper where you can compare them with other offerings every day.

It will pay you many times over to read the ads in the Daily Freeman regularly.

How Advertising LOWERS The Price of What You Buy!

Take Tooth-paste, for instance. Good tooth-paste. It may cost Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Jobber and Mr. Druggist 30 cents a tube to make and sell—counting salaries and packaging and transportation, rent and other "overhead" and the interest due on the note at the bank. A fair profit all along the line . . . and then this tooth-paste could be sold for 45c—if everybody knew about it!

Sure . . .

. . . but who does know about it? Just a mere handful of people who have heard of it by "word of mouth." A few hundred maybe. Not enough to pay the manufacturer's rent and his NRA salaries. NOT ENOUGH TO LET HIM STAY IN BUSINESS.

And so . . .

. . . he can do one of two things. Raise the price to nearly a dollar (as in our picture above) while you brush your teeth with plain water. Or raise the price a bare nickel per tube and spend that nickel per tube on advertising—to tell his story to millions—do a volume business at a small profit—and bring you good tooth-paste at 50c or even less.

Steve Hamas Wins Bloody Battle From Max Schmeling

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Philadelphia, Feb. 14 (AP).—The Black Union of the prize ring Max Schmeling, was the forgotten man of boxing today. He has forgotten how to fight.

He started last night on his comeback trail, a former heavyweight champion of the world, and he stumbled down to the end of twelve rounds, still trying, still grimacing, still brave as any man who ever pulled on leather but beaten and torn by the gloved fists of Steve Hamas.

Hamas is the 26-year-old young man from Panama N. J. who made his first athletic name half a dozen years ago as a fullback at Penn State. He came out of college tooling up boxing. He once knocked out Tommy Loubran in two rounds. He has lost two decisions to the former light heavyweight champion.

They would have called him cannon fodder for Schmeling in 1933 when the German won the heavyweight title from Jack Sharkey on a foul; in 1931 when he knocked out Young Stribling in Cleveland in fifteen rounds; in 1932 when he lost his crown back to Sharkey. Last night he was cannon fodder for a boy who would have been fortunate to have acted as his sparring partner back in the days when Schmeling was tough and hungry.

Gate Was $38,000.
A crowd of 15,000, the largest to see a fight in Philadelphia since Gene Tunney won the heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey in the Sequoyia stadium in 1926, saw Schmeling hesitate, fumble, try and fall against the rugged, clean-cut youngster. That crowd paid $38,000 to see Schmeling fail as completely as he did last summer, when Max Baer knocked him out in ten rounds in the Yankee stadium in New York.

Hamas stabbed him with left jabs, and the Schmeling who used to brush them aside and shuffle in with right hand chops to the head, straight-sapping left hooks to the body, stood and took them. Hamas slugged him with both hands, and the Schmeling who once revelled in that kind of going down there helplessly, and bravely.

A Bloody Duel
Schmeling's left eyebrow was slashed open so deeply in the sixth round that three stitches were required to close the wound today, but the courage of the Teuton from the Black Forest remained undimmed. He fought on through a bloody haze, trying plugging, leaving a right hand that has lost its sting.

With the last punch of the eleventh round, a right hand smash, he broke Hamas' nose and the blood from the two of them crimsoned them to the waist. Through the twelfth, the final round, they fought head to head like a pair of wounded, falling moose, horns locked in a death struggle.

At the end, Schmeling, only 23, was the stronger of the two, but the decision of Referee Spud Murphy and two judges was unanimous.

Between each round from the eighth on, when Hamas' over had right slashed a three-inch slash in the German's eyebrow, the Pennsylvania Commission's physician, Dr. William Terry, examined the wound, he shook his head, but he let the fight go on.

Max Will Continue
Schmeling won only three rounds, the second, fourth and twelfth on most of the expert's cards. Hamas won the other nine.

Despite the defeat the Teuton, who left here a wealthy man after his knockout by Baer to marry Anna Ondry, motion picture star, in Germany, was more determined than ever to carry on his comeback campaign. He sails from New York Saturday to battle Paulino Uzcudun, the Basque heavyweight, in Barcelona, Spain, in April.

"I couldn't get started," he explained today. "I laid off too long. In the last rounds I couldn't see any more because of the blood in my eyes. I need more fights. I'm as good as I ever was. I will yet win my championship back."

But the wise men of boxing left Philadelphia today mumbling an ancient adage of the prize ring: "Money and marriage," they said. "Those two beat them all. And they never come back."

Local Polish Cagers Bow To Po'keepsie Club, 42-25

Manager "Dolly" Teslo's Z. N. P. cagers sorely disappointed him Tuesday by bowing to the strong St. Peter's Alumni basketball team of Poughkeepsie at White Eagle Hall, 42-25. Their failure to stop S. Waryas and Radcliff, two talented forwards, spelled defeat for the Polish lads, who couldn't get started on the offensive themselves and at the intermission trailed the visitors by 14 points.

In the vanguard at the outset of the second half, the Saints continued their overwhelming march through the latter stages of the game, at the same time holding the Z's from setting started. Bill Kennoch and Dan Joyce, two mainstays of the Polish quintet, were bottled up so that they tallied only 7 and 5 points, respectively. Randy Kieffer, returning from an injury received in a game, started for the Teslo brigade with 9 points.

Only nine fields were scored by the home club and seven fouls. St. Peter's tallied 16 times from scrimmage and tossed in 10 fouls.

The defeat received at the hands of the St. Peter club was the second within three days by the Z. N. P.'s from a Poughkeepsie team, they having bowed to the Polonia C. C. Saturday at the Bridge City. Manager Teslo was more than anxious to have his warriors trim the visiting Poughkeepsians last night and since they failed in looking for another battle with a team from that city in order to get revenge.

The preliminary between the Z. N. P. and Comforter Girls ended 7 all, despite two extra periods. In the first half the Z's outscored their rivals 4-2 but were unable to hold their lead during the second session.

Troy's Luckies at High Falls Tonight

Jack Troy will take his Luckies to High Falls tonight for a cage war with Pete Bruck's All Stars and the match is expected to pack the B. W. S. Hall like it never has been before with eager followers of both clubs who have their eyes fixed on the championship of Ulster county.

The Stone Riders and Luckies are known for the hard game they play and with them opposing each other, the brand of action promises to be of the caliber that no fan can afford to miss. That everything will run smoothly is promised by the announcement that Harold "Johnny" Johnson, veteran referee, will referee as boss of tonight's battle after a long layoff because of a back injury.

Both clubs will use their regulars: The Luckies—Rhymer and Van Etten, forwards; Schline, center; Joyce and D. Kelly, guards; Stone Ridge—Killion and Van Deusen, forwards; Knoll, center; Wideltz and Cullum, guards.

Starting time of the game is 8 o'clock. Previous to it there will be one between the Stone Ridge Juniors and Jimmy Cullum's All Stars, substituting for the Seventh Ward Democrats. The Dems, after it has been announced they would play at B. W. S., recalled they had an engagement at West Park and had to call off their match with the Little Riders.

Concluding tonight's program will be a dance with music by Harry Malenholder's Commanders of Kingston.

Friday night the Riders and Luckies will play another game, meeting at White Eagle Hall, home court of the latter club on Delaware avenue.

Young Israel's Swamp School No. 8 Team

School No. 8 basketball team, which is leading the Grade School League, proved no match for the Young Israel Tuesday night at the Downtown Jewish Community Center, bowing to the Hebrews by the score of 21-7. Greenman led the attack of the winners, making 11 of their points.

Individual tallies were: Israel—Greenman 11, Samuels 2, Fertil 5, Kline 1, Diener 1, Morris 1, total 21.

School No. 8—Wolf 6, Ferguson 1, total 7.

The Young Israel are anxious to book games with junior teams ranging in age from 13 to 15 years. Dates may be arranged by communicating with "Sig" Samuels, 15 West Chestnut street, phone 1281.

Next Tuesday the Israel will play the Young Willets at the Jewish Center.

Kingston High At Riordon Tonight

This evening at the gym of Raymond Riordon, 222 West 11th, the Kingston High and Riordon High will meet in a basketball game scheduled for 8 p.m.

The prep series basketball team has just completed a tour through New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. In this tour they have met the first teams of several leading colleges and have won the majority of their games. Because of this, the team will undoubtedly have their hands full if they expect to defeat the down river opponent.

As a prelude to the main tilt, the local Jaycees will meet the Riordon seconds. This game is scheduled to get under way at 7:30 with the main tilt starting at 8:30.

Coach Knaul probably start his regular season with the Don Moore and Captain Anthony Zueh as scorers of the 11th grade. In the forwards, Bob Evers at center, and Andy Dyke and Tony Dobrosky in the guard positions. The local Jaycees will probably line-up with other local players, or Eml of the Back trio in the forward positions, Jack Schoolmucker at center, and Bernie Dobrosky and Bill Locke at the guards.

PHOENICIA.
Phoenicia, Feb. 14.—Under the auspices of Whitney Hose Company, a two-act play, "The Red Lamp," will be given on Saturday evening, February 24. The cast of characters is: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, the Misses Harriet Loomis and Ruth Shuter, the Messrs. Lloyd Kinsey and "Bill" McGrath, Jr.

Many from here enjoyed the musical given by the Ladies' Aid of the Shannaken M. E. Church recently. The ladies assumed the male parts as well as the other. The costume line being drawn on the waist and white pants. The waist and feet were alike and were very taking. The program numbers, vocal selections, jokes, were all well selected and good. The orchestral numbers added extra pleasure to those attending. Prof. Drescher presided at the piano. The band boys deserve credit for the manner in which the numbers were rendered. R. B. Longyear of Phoenicia was one of the number in the orchestra.

Owing to the severe cold, the basketball game between Saugerties and the C. C. C. boys to be given Friday night, was called off.

Donald Smith of West Shokan visited his former schoolmate, Warren Simmons, and John McGrath, Monday.

T. J. McGrath has recovered and was able to return to his mail clerk route on the West Shore railroad. He was seriously ill for several weeks and in a hospital at Philadelphia. His many friends are glad for his recovery.

A dance was held in the parish hall, Phoenicia, Friday evening, Feb. 9. It was sponsored by Kathryn Johnston and Ethel Ford. Those present to make it an enjoyable evening were the Misses Ethel Ford, Kathryn Johnston, Thelma Tranker, Helen Ford, Jane Ball, Betty O'Keefe, Dot and Florence Van Etten, Shirley Bell, Gladys Cox, Winifred Tremper, Muriel Edwards, Betty McGrath, Betty Malloy, Lois Shuter, also the Messrs. Chet Ball, Norman Silverman, Bert Myers, Moose Tiano, Frank Collin, Charles Donovan, John Brooks, Bill Earl, Floyd Hill, Kenneth Short, Bob Ericson, Frank Mickels, Larry Glennon, Bill McGrath, Bill and Buddy Malloy, James McGrath, Sammie Kasebeck, Clarence McGee, Eddie Ford, Gross Warren, Fred Todd, Jimmie Malloy. Music was by the Phoenicia orchestra. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Elsie were Kingston callers Wednesday.

Mr. Harry Breithaupt and daughter, Edna, have returned home from Florida. Their many friends welcome them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brooks spent Monday in Kingston.

Mr. Lee Breithaupt spent a few days in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tremper are entertaining out of town relatives.

Mrs. Hickey is spending some time with relatives in town.

Mrs. Marshall Terry was a caller in town Monday.

Ray Baldwin of Oneonta spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Newman.

Mrs. Harvey Clancy and family and Mrs. Harry Shepherd spent Saturday in Kingston.

Gypsy Moth Is Peculiar in Reproduction Program

The Gypsy Moth is an extremely interesting insect. Since its introduction into North America in 1908, it has been responsible for the spending of millions of dollars in areas where it developed in outbreak form, according to the Montreal Herald. It feeds on a great variety of foliage, including that of the tree. The female moths lay their eggs in more or less circular masses, in July, usually on the trunk or larger limbs of trees. The eggs remain unhatched until the following May. The young caterpillars hatch in May and at once begin to feed upon the foliage, reaching full growth about mid-summer. When mature they change to pupae which are attached to parts of the plant and enclosed in a silken cocoon. The moths emerge about two weeks later and the females, which cannot fly, soon begin to lay their eggs. The male moth is yellowish-brown in color, with darker markings. The female moth is larger. In color it is almost white, with numerous small black markings.

Howe About:

Speeches
Doc Tilden
Hard Work

By ED HOWE
EVERYBODY knows we are all equal; it is in the Constitution, which nobody doubts or fails to meet.

At the speaker's table in my home town in Kansas I recently followed Henry J. Allen, former governor and United States senator, a well-known poor boy who worked his way through a university, and into the best home and newspaper office in Wichita.

The party was given by my neighbors and friends to note that fifty-five years before I had arrived among them. There were flowers, an orchestra of forty, Swiss yodelers, distinguished guests from out of town; policemen out in front handling traffic, messenger boys bringing in telegrams. Remember it was my party, not Henry's!

Yet Henry Allen made the best speech I ever heard in my life, and I made the poorest one. I made as poor a speech as I made in New York in 1927, when a hundred and fifty friends honored me with a dinner at the Biltmore hotel. As we were going out, Irvie Cobb, who had presided, said to me:

"Did you get your watch?"
And I asked:
"What watch?"

"The watch we had such a devil of a time raising money to buy you," Mr. Cobb replied. "Haven't you heard about it yet?"

I had been unconscious through it all; when on my feet trying to express my thanks, and when the watch was given me.

Henry Allen is so much smarter than I am, he is unconstitutional. I'll appeal to the Supreme court, or the NRA. If that does no good, I'll join others not as smart as Henry is, and riot. We haven't been treated right under the constitution.

Old Bill White, of Emporia, a plain man of the people, was also present. He's constitutional, all right; I can make as good a speech as he can.

I have been hearing a lot about Doc Tilden of Denver, and have looked him up. He seems to be eighty-two years old, and to have as much sense as he ever had, with strong indications he has always had a good deal. After practicing his profession in the regular way many years, he became convinced all our ills, diseases, ailments, plagues, poisons, powders were harmful, and since then has been quarrelling with the doctors. Oh, yes, science has been marvelously developed, says the old doctor, but the people will have none of it when it interferes with the old voodoo remedies for poverty, colds, pains. We have all become so big feeling, so proud, we have forgotten not only our manners, but the old common sense. If we have a cold, we want a pill cure. If we are poor, the voodoo remedy is easy; drink more money. If we are in danger, we knock on wood for luck, and go in deeper. Plato was an old fox; the old man next door with his talk about getting back to safety, is another.

My investigations seem to indicate that old Doc Tilden is a good man; pays his debts better than the average old man, and believes in all the decencies of life. Those who hear of him believe he is a disagreeable fanatic, but around Denver, where he has lived many years, he stands rather higher than the average.

Charles Darwin was an educated, candid and worthy man I greatly admire. Still, he was compelled to occasionally guess, as I am compelled to do. He believed all progress comes from peculiar individuals; "sports," as men of science call them, or the "heaven sent," as rhetoricians prefer to style them.

I disagree with the great Darwin with an apology. I believe progress comes through the ages; from reasonably good fathers handing down to sons the results of their experience. I believe that the "great genius" who invents a convenience apparatus and blesses mankind—as Bell invented the telephone, Edison the electric light—is only a hard working man and behaves reasonably well as a citizen while about it. The most useful and agreeable men I have ever known have been notably industrious and well-behaved. Of course, Edison and Bell were what we call "smart men," but every community is full of them. There are millions of tramps and vagrants who might have become notably useful citizens had they been appreciated as much as Edison and Bell the importance of hard work and character.

I believe the doctrine lately advanced that a man who works hard and behaves is thus strengthened in brain power and character. I believe the social cripples are due mainly to their failure to accept the truth all experience has proven: that honesty is the best policy; that every average man may achieve sufficient success than what we call failure.

I am willing to pay an agreeable man a little more than a grocer; I like the man who, when I buy meat, suggests a free home for the dog. He has a lot of worthless bones to throw away. Why not make some use of them?

The most sincere admirer I have given in a neighboring town. He wrote me yesterday that lately he drove past my house, and although he greatly wished to see me, was afraid to come in. So I'm leaving this note to drive down to see him.

Duties of Vice President
The vice president's position is not one that calls for much publicity. He is providing officer over the senate when R. is in session; outside of this, he becomes of public interest only in case of the President's death or disability.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Writing Under Pseudonym)

It may be a long time before actual articles are drawn up and officially labelled but the fact is that the East already has a "Big Seven" as the foundation for a collegiate athletic conference.

The group consists of Cornell, Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale. It includes the pioneers in every major sport and a maximum of tradition, even if not all the present-day Eastern powers in various branches of competition.

The point is that they have much in common and appear to be realizing it in a series of community studies. They are already grouped together in the Eastern baseball and basketball leagues, both of which have added Harvard to the membership within the past year.

The Crimson, long a holdout from any fixed association beyond the confines of the old Big Three, has undergone a complete change of heart and policy. Harvard is now one of the "clubbiest" of the major eastern universities, seemingly eager and willing to join any reasonable athletic enterprise.

Need Grid Cornerstone
This Big Seven, of course, can't claim much title to the designation until it operates with football as the cornerstone of competitive agreement. The gridiron being the source of nearly all athletic revenues, and hence the touchstone of intercollegiate subjects, it is only natural that it also should involve the most difficult looking toward the formation of a real eastern conference.

Yet a good deal of progress has already been made with this family circle of progress. This year's schedule, for instance, show an average of four games for each college within the group. This is certainly sufficient basis for a good start, if not the actual completion of organization for common benefit.

Columbia and Penn play Yale this year. Princeton has already renewed relations with Dartmouth and resumes football rivalry with Harvard this year. The picture won't be complete, however, for the Tigers, until they get together on the gridiron again with Pennsylvania.

There may have been some unpleasantness in the old days between Penn and Princeton but it is buried and forgotten now. I doubt if one out of a hundred undergraduates at either university could give the slightest information about their break-off after 1894. I recall that Penn won the last game but I couldn't give the details myself without considerable research.

Massacre A Horror
The relative isolation of universities like Cornell at Ithaca and Dartmouth at Hanover is, of course, a factor in the football business. It is a barrier to home-and-home agreements with colleges such as Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania which draw from the big-city areas.

Dartmouth solves the problem readily by playing Harvard and Yale on the rival home grounds. Cornell's only fixture away from home is its annual Thanksgiving Day game with Penn at Franklin Field. In the past the Ithacaans have declined to sign with Yale on the same basis and this, it would seem, is one of the mistakes that have slowed up the home-baiting together of the Six from in football.

Tilden And Vines Draw in $100,000

New York, Feb. 14 (AP).—Bill Tilden and Ellsworth Vines have drawn more than $100,000 at the "gate" in the first 17 matches of their tennis tour and Vines' financial goal of $50,000 in his first year as a professional is almost certain to be reached with plenty to spare.

On the basis of 40-40-20 split with Tilden and Bill O'Brien, co-partner of the tour, Vines already earned $25,000 with prospects of doubling that total by the time he and Tilden have completed their series of international team matches with Henri Cochet and Martin Plan. After three more tussles with Tilden, Vines and Big Bill will start the international series against the French stars here February 19-21.

St. Mary's Quintet Swamps Comforters
St. Mary's Five evened their standing with the Comforter Seniors Tuesday by defeating them 31-19 at St. Mary's Hall, Broadway and McEater street. Woody Melville's 11 points and Scully's 12 were the main factors in helping the Saints get revenge on the Comforters who defeated them several weeks ago. Al Blackwell led the Seniors with 6 points.

The scores:
St. Mary's—Scully 12, Melville 11, Grady 6, Henderson 2, total 31.
Comforters—Blackwell 6, Stumpf 5, Haines 4, Van Bramer 3, Post 1, total 19.

BILLIARDS

In 22 innings at Nick's Tuesday, Hotch Alcou defeated Mike Carpio, 100-75, in the city tournament match, running off 28 balls for his highest during the contest. This was done early in the battle and later the downtown expert ran off 15. Carpio made a strong slash but could not overcome the early advantage rolled up by Alcou. Carpio's best was 13 balls.

Tonight Julius Tellier, former titleholder, will play Billy Hopper.

Coastal Wild Life

A Loggerhead on a Florida Beach.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.

IN SPITE of man's destruction of forests and building of great cities, the face of nature has changed but little along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of North America.

A number of large or otherwise noteworthy species of wild animals actually here have disappeared, but these were of kinds apparently unfitted to survive in a populous country. Among them may be mentioned the bison and the elk, which once roamed the eastern forests, and the moose and caribou which preyed upon them and other wild things. In addition, among the birds, the great auk, the Labrador duck, the heath hen, passenger pigeon, and parakeet have vanished.

As against this there is a marked renewal of forests in progress and large numbers of species of wild creatures have adapted themselves to share their world with civilized man. Moose and caribou hold their own in some of the wilder places, and the white-tailed deer is probably more numerous than at any previous time in its history. Each yearly hunting season, within a radius of 300 miles of New York city, sportsmen take more than 40,000 of these deer. In Pennsylvania their increase has been so great that the entire stock of deer has been threatened with starvation, owing to lack of sufficient forest.

Probably the total number of small birds now is vastly greater than existed in the days of the Pilgrim Fathers, owing to the increase of food available on farms and in second-growth forests. Millions of migratory wild fowl continue to troop southward every fall to winter in the coastal waterways and marshes.

At the present time it would seem that the shore birds have returned in large numbers along the eastern coast since the migratory bird treaty became effective, and while many of the species go into Mexico, and even South America, to winter, most of them are too small to attract the pot-hunters of these regions.

The great flights of geese, swans, and ducks that annually sweep south and southeasterly in the fall through the eastern States and along the Atlantic coast mainly concentrate in and about Chesapeake bay and Currituck sound, N. C. Many of these birds, however, remain about Long Island sound and Barnegat bay until the coming of severe weather, when most of them also move down the coast.

Georgia and Florida, having few shallow fresh-water bays and little wild-fowl food along the Atlantic coast, form a rather marked area of almost complete separation between these two groups of migrants which winter along the Atlantic coast and those of the Gulf; the Atlantic pease and swans in particular not usually being found farther south than the Carolinas.

Currituck sound is an ideal home for wild fowl during the winter months. It is shallow, surrounded by marshes, bays, and ponds of almost entirely fresh water in which various kinds of excellent wild-fowl food plants abound. Fish, shellfish, and crustaceans are also plentiful.

On its deeper and more open waters are thousands of canvasbacks, numerous redheads, scaups, and golden-eyes, while in the shallow bays and connecting ponds are to be found great numbers of marsh ducks, such as black duck, mallard, wiggon, pintails, and teal, which usually assemble in smaller flocks than species frequenting deep water.

One of the most interesting birds on the Currituck is the whistling swan. The local estimates of these birds vary from a total of fifty thousand to nearly one hundred thousand birds. Although the swans are undoubtedly very numerous, yet these estimates are no doubt far too high. As a matter of fact, they probably do not reach the actual number given. Fifteen or twenty years ago, in this region, through overhunting the swans were almost exterminated.

It is a fact that is found on the Currituck and other neighboring waters that a small number of swans are now being bred in small ponds. As each breeding couple produces from two to four young, it seems certain that, barring on nonbreeding birds and every form of causality, the young swans known as cygnets, would probably amount to more than ten thousand yearly.

The increasing number of swans on the Currituck presents a difficult problem for the local fishermen. One of fifty thousand is accepted, this means approximately twenty thousand breeding pairs. As each breeding couple produces from two to four young, it seems certain that, barring on nonbreeding birds and every form of causality, the young swans known as cygnets, would probably amount to more than ten thousand yearly.

WORLD OF STAMPS

By QUINCY JAMES

May 14 is the birth anniversary of President Roosevelt. The President's collection of stamps has called attention to his philatelic hobby. The President has collected more than 20,000 specimens; he occupies his spare time studying new issues, his collection specializing in new world stamps, and he could qualify easily as a philatelic expert.

Since 1933 the President has continued his collecting to the issue of the Americas and is reported to have gathered some 100,000 stamps from Argentina, Peru, Cuba, Panama, Colombia and Haitian stamps. Included are many rarities from other Latin-American countries.

His collection was started by his mother when she was in her teens and turned over to him when he was 8. It originally was founded on Hongkong stamps of 1855 to 1876, used to bring letters from China to Mrs. James Roosevelt while her parents lived in China.

During his term as assistant secretary of the navy from 1913-20 the President specialized somewhat in Haiti and is said to have nearly every stamp issued by that country. The hobby was a life-saver for the President in his long illness from 1921 to 1924. It offered something to keep his mind occupied interestingly.

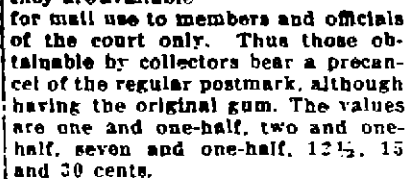

The entire collection was brought to Washington when Mr. Roosevelt became President, and he frequently is found late at night at his desk busy with his stamps.

Netherlands Beauty

A stamp beauty in the way of a surcharge has appeared from the Netherlands. Lettered in gold, six of the current postage have been overprinted for special use on behalf of the international court.

Further indication of the growing use of the airmail comes from the far off Belgian colony of Congo in the announcement of a new airmail set containing nine stamps and ranging from one-half franc to 50 francs in value.

Only one other airmail set has been issued by Congo, the first in 1920 having four values, with the addition of two more values in 1930. The design consists of a huge modern airplane flying over the plains of Congo, with mountains in the distance.

Matters Before The Surrogate

The Industrial Home of the city of Kingston is a beneficiary to the amount of $1,500 under the will of the late Sarah Crispell Bernard, who died in Kingston January 19. The legacy is to be added to the institution's endowment fund. In memory of Bernard. The will, admitted to probate before Surrogate Kaufman, disposes of real property valued at $10,000 and personal of not to exceed $100,000. The executor is R. Bernard Crispell of New York city and the attorney is V. B. Van Wageningen. To the Wilkes Rural Cemetery Association is left $500 for care of the Bernard-Crispell plot, and Margaret Mulvihill is given $5,000 "in recognition of long and faithful service." The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to a sister, Amelia Bernard Crispell.

Will of Mary Bingham, late of the town of Marlborough, who died there July 22 last, admitted to probate upon petition of Florence A. Bingham of Katonah, N. Y., executrix. The estate consists of personal property valued at not to exceed $10,000. Charles W. Bingham, a son, is to receive the benefit of the income from a trust fund of $4,500. Remainder of the estate is placed in trust. Income to John W. Bingham, husband of testatrix, for life; at his death principal to Florence A. Bingham, daughter, and Fletcher H. and John B. Bingham, sons.

Will of Johanna Bordenstein, who died in Bloomingville January 21, admitted to probate upon petition of John Bordenstein of Bloomingville, son, who is named executor. There is personal property valued at about $1,000. Frederick Stephan, Jr., is the attorney. The estate is left to John Bordenstein and his wife, they to pay $100 each to Frederick Bordenstein and Mary Van Etten and $25 to Margaret McAvoy, son and daughters of testatrix.

Julia F. Butler, a sister, is the executrix and beneficiary under the will of her brother, Dennis Butler, who died in Kingston, January 5. The estate consists of real property valued at $1,200 and personal of $1,500. Robert G. Groves is the attorney.

Will of Jane Meredith, late of the town of Shawangunk, who died in Middletown, January 18, admitted to probate upon petition of David C. Stewart, executor. It disposes of personal property valued at not to exceed $12,000. To a brother, Robert Meredith of Walden, is given $200. The trustees of St. George's Episcopal Church, Albany, N. Y., and the Brunswick Rural Cemetery, Walkkill, are each given $100.

Surviving nephews and nieces each receive legacies of $700, as follows: Fred W. and William R. Meredith, Walkkill, N. Y.; Florence L. Reis, Bogota, N. Y.; John M. Meredith, Walkkill, N. Y.; David C. and William H. Stewart, Addie Neusaenger, John F. Stewart, Kate Snider, William R. Meredith, Jennie Courtright, Pine Bush; Isabelle Terwilliger, Ruth Clark, Walden; Ethel Williamson, Gardiner. A. S. Embler is attorney for the executor.

Will of Emma Bishop, who died in Kingston, January 27, admitted to probate upon petition of John Ballard of Kingston, brother, who is executor. There is real estate valued at $2,000, exclusive of mortgage and personal of about $600. To a brother, DeWitt Ballard, is left $2,000; remainder of the estate to John Ballard. Charles W. Walton is the attorney.

A Good Style for a School Frock.

7754. Here is a practical model—a jumpsuit dress—in "jumper" style. The "jumper" or dress, is sleeveless—and is worn over the jumpsuit. This style is easy to develop and to launder if made of wash material, for which it is very desirable. It is also good for jersey, checked or plaid suiting with batiste, linen or crepe for the jumpsuit. One may have short sleeves as the small front view shows—or long sleeves as pictured in the large view.

Designed in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 fit made as in the large view will require 1 1/2 yard of 22 inch material for the "jumper" and 1 1/2 yard for the jumpsuit. If made without contrast, 3 yards will be required. The jumpsuit with short sleeves will require 1 yard.

Much To His Surprise.
Rockville, Md.—Two weeks of Herbert Miles, state roads engineer, dug up a worn case containing a batch of financial papers. He threw them away but later went back to the spot with Deputy Sheriff Paul Watkins and aided in digging the case from snow and ice. The papers were estimated to be worth between five and ten thousand dollars.

Sympathy From A Judge.
Chicago—Judge Rudolph Demarest likes to sing in the bathroom. Therefore he lent an attentive ear to the complaint of Lillian Boettcher, who said that her husband, among other things, banged her head against the bath tub in protest against her bathroom songs.

She won a divorce decree.

The Big Advantage is under the hood— A V-8 Engine

If you expect a car to "go places and do things"—if you want 8-cylinder performance, but not at the usual 8-cylinder cost—step into the new Ford V-8 for 1934!

Here is a car that will do better than 80 miles an hour. It develops 12½ more horsepower than last year's model. At 50 to 60 miles per hour it is actually running at ease. This reserve power means acceleration—both in second and in high gear—unequaled by practically any other make of American automobile, regardless of price.

The Ford V-8 for 1934 offers you many other advantages. Operating economy, for instance—20 miles per gallon at 45 miles per hour, in exhaustive test runs. Clear-Vision Ventilation—with no "blind spots" and the window all in one piece. More actual body room than in many more expensive cars. Riding comfort—with free action for all four wheels plus the proved safety of a front axle.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the new Ford V-8 for 1934.

Longest Place Name

World-wide curiosity about the longest place name in the British Isles is reflected, says New York Times, in letters from many parts of the globe to the station master at Llanfair, Anglesey, since the L. M. S. railway decided to exhibit the full name of the village. 57 letters in all, on 25-foot long banners on the station platform. The traditional name of the village is Llanfairpwllgwyllgyrocerchwyrndrobilllanyllanoegoroch, abbreviated for railway purposes to Llanfair.
